

D-Day Landings Diary

Imagine you are in the landing craft below about to land on one of the Normandy beaches and face the German Army. You are going to write a diary entry explaining what happened on the beaches on D-Day.

You need to consider everything that your senses would record on the beach.

- What would hear on the landing craft?
- What would you smell?
- What would you taste?
- What are you carrying? Is it heavy?
- How does the motion of the boat affect you? How do you feel?
- What are your emotions as you get closer to the beach? Page 2 of 2
